PLEASE READ!

I believe many of you are wondering what this is and we'd like to explain why we're doing this even. This is a partial re-translation and the qualitychecked version of the Red Storm webtoon. We are doing this because through the years Red Storm has went through quite few scanlation groups, and even within those groups, new translators. And almost every single change resulted in name alterations or even complete changes. We intend to be consistant with the names of characters, abilities and the locations. We would also like to ask you, the readers... if you spot any errors in our translations, mail us at merakiscanlation@gmail.com and we will take the chapter down and fix the error.
